The Saisho 5S App
Get connected to Lean in a dynamic way

It's time to move over to our 5S Application with a modern, long-term retention solution - one that reduces costs and maintenance and allows you to easily extract, access, and share valuable data. Shift your resources to where it matters - enabling time to work on the things that matter.

What's in it for me?

For the learner, there is obviously the opportunity to explore their learning and benefit from someone else's focus and expertise, either in a particular subject or in supporting the learning process

Audits can be assigned to employees to give them reminders to carry out audits. Data and charts are collated and auto generated to enable the user and management to see live data and data trends at an instant. Audit reports are automatically emailed to users and managers

Saisho 5S mobile App will provide more value to your business Maybe you've tried to nail down the best way to encourage more engagement towards lean practices. You want to increase their interaction with your business to promote lean engagement, but you also want to provide a level of value for your employees and that they feel you are becoming a centre of excellence.

Connect Better with Employees and the 5S process.

5S audits are not just about audit compliance filling out audits that are out of date or not actioned by supervisors or manager. It is about creating a dynamic Approach to sustainability using technology to advance towards world class. Since 2.6 billion people now have high-powered mobile devices within arm's reach at all times, the true game-changer in 5S and lean sustainability is now mobile Apps.
